November 1. 1of

In Senate of the United States.

MARCH 17, 1806.

Mr. Bradley, from the committee to whom was referred the application of Hamet Caramalli ex-bashaw of Tripoli, submitted the following

REPORT:

THE Ex-bashaw founds his claim on the justice of the United States, from his services and sufferings in their cause, and from his having been deceived and amused with the prospect of being placed on the throne, as legitimate sovereign of Tripoli, and frequently drawn from eligible situations for the purpose of being made the dupe and and instrument of policy, and finally sacrificed to misfortune and wretchedness. The committee from a full investigation of the documents which have been laid before congress, with other evidence that has come within their knowledge, are enabled to lay before the senate a brief statement of facts in relation to the ex-bashaw, and the result of their deliberations thereon.

This unfortunate prince by the treason and perfidy of his brother, the reigning bashaw, was driven from his throne, an exile to the regency of Tunis; where the agents of the United States in the Mediterranean, found him; and as early as August 1801, entered into a convention to co-operate with him, the object of which was to obtain a permanent peace with Tripoli, to place the ex-bashaw on his throne and procure indemnification for all expense in accomplishing the same. This agreement was renewed in November following, with encouragement that the U. States would persevere, until they had effected the object; and in 1802, when the reigning bashaw had made overtures to the ex-bashaw to settle on him the provinces of Derne and Bengazi, and when the ex-bashaw was on the point of leaving Tunis, under the escort furnished him by the reigning bashaw, the agents of the United States prevailed on him to abandon the offer, with assurance that the United States would effectually co-operate, and place him on the throne of Tripoli.

The same engagements were renewed in 1803, and the plan of co-operation so arranged, that the ex-bashaw by his own exertions and force, took possession of the province of Derne; but the American squadron at that time under the command of commodore MORRIS, instead of improving that favorable moment to co-operate with the ex-bashaw, and put an end to the war, unfortunately abandoned the Barbary coast, and left the ex-bashaw to contend solely with all the forces of the reigning bashaw, and who in consequence was obliged, in the fore part of the year 1804 to give up his conquest of Derne, and fly from the fury of the usurper into Egypt. These transactions were from time to time, not only communicated by our agents to government, but were laid before congress in February 1804, in the documents accompanying the report of the committee of claims on the petition of Mr. Eaton, late consul at Tunis, which committee expressed their decided approbation of his official conduct, and to which report the committee beg leave to refer.

In full possession of the knowledge of these facts, the government of the United States, in June 1804, dispatched commodore Barron, with a squadron into the Mediterranean, and in his instructions, submitted to his entire direction, the subject of availing himself of the co-operation of the ex-bashaw, and referring him to Mr Eaton, as an agent sent out by government for that purpose.

After commodore Barron had arrived on the station in September 1804, he dispatched Mr. Eaton and captain Hull into Egypt, to find the ex-bashaw, with instructions to assure him that the commodore would take the most effectual measures with the forces under his command to co-operate with him against the usurper his brother, and to establish him in the regency of Tripoli. After encountering many difficulties and dangers, the ex-bashaw was found in upper Egypt with the Mamelukes, and commanding the Arabs the same assurances were again made to him, and a convention was reduced to writing, the stipulations of which had the same objects in view; the United States to obtain a permanent peace and their prisoners the ex-bashaw to obtain his throne. Under these impressions and with the fullest confidence in the assurances he had received from the agents of the U. States, and even from commodore Barron himself, by one of his, (the bashaw's) secretaries, whom he had sent to wait on the commodore for that purpose, he gave up his prospects in Egypt, abandoned his property in that country, constituted Mr. Eaton general and commander in chief of his forces and with such an army as he was able to raise and support, marched through the Libyan desert, suffering every hardship incident to such a perilous undertaking, and with his army commanded by general Eaton, aided by O'Bannon and Mann, three American officers, who shared with him the dangers and hardships of the campaign and whose names their country will forever record with honor, attacked the city of Derne in the regency of Tripoli, on the 27th day of April, 1805, and after a well fought battle took possession of the same; and for the first time planted the American colours on the ramparts of a Tripolitan fort. And in several battles afterwards, one of which he fought without the aid of the Americans they having been restrained by orders, not warranted by any policy, issued as appears by Mr. Lear, the American consul, defeated the army of the usurper with great slaughter, maintained his conquest, and without the hazard of repulse, would have marched to the throne of Tripoli, had he been supported by the co-operation of the American squadron, which in honor and good faith he had a right to expect. The committee would here explicitly declare, that in their opinion no blame ought to attach to commodore Barron, a wasting sickness and consequent mental as well as bodily debility, had rendered him totally unable to exercise the duties of commanding the squadron, previous to this momentous crisis, and from which he has never recovered—and to this cause alone may be attributed the final failure of the plan of co-operation which appears to have been wisely concerted by the government, and hitherto bravely executed by its officers.

But however unpleasant the task, the committee are compelled by the obligations of truth and duty, to state further, that Mr. Lear, to whom was entrusted the power of negociating the peace, appears to have gained a complete ascendency over the commodore, thus debilitated by sickness; or rather having assumed the command in the name of the commodore,* to have dictated every measure; to have paralised every military operation by sea and land; and finally, without displaying the fleet or squadron before Tripoli, without consulting even the safety of the ex-bashaw or his army, against the opinion of all the officers of the fleet, so far as the committee have been able to obtain the same, and of commodore Rodgers (as appears from Mr. Lear's letter† to the secretary of state, dated Syracuse harbor, July the 5th, 1805) to have entered into a convention with the reigning bashaw, by which contrary to his instructions, he stipulated to pay him sixty thousand dollars, to abandon the ex-bashaw, and to withdraw all aid & assistance from his army. And although a stipulation was made that the wife and children of the ex-bashaw should be delivered to him on his withdrawing from the territories of Tripoli, yet that stipulation has not been carried into execution, and it is high, ly probable was never intended to be. The committee forbear to make any comment on the impropriety of the orders issued to gen. Eaton to evacuate Derne, five days previous to Mr. Lear's sailing from Malta for Tripoli, to enter on his negociation; and the honor of the nation forbids any remarks on the unworthy attempt to compel the ex-bashaw and general Eaton, to give up and abandon their conquest, by withholding supplies from the army at Derne, eight days previous to the commencement of the negociation; nor will the committee condescend to enter into a consideration of pretended reasons, assigned by Mr. Lear to palliate his management of the affairs of the negociation; such as, The danger of the American prisoners in Tripoli—The unfitness of the ships for service—And the want of means to prosecute the war—They appear to the committee to have no foundation in fact, & are used as rather a veil to cover an inglorious deed, than solid reasons to justify the negociator's conduct. The committee are free to say that in their opinion, it was in the power of the United States, with the force then employed, and a small portion of the sixty thousand dollars, thus improperly expended, to have placed Hamet Caramalli, the rightful sovereign of Tripoli on his throne; and to have obtained their prisoners in perfect safety,‡ without the payment of a cent, with assurance and probable certainty, of eventual remuneration for all expense; and to have established a peace with the Barbary powers, that would have been secure and permanent, and which would have dignified the name and character of the American people.

Whatever Hamet the ex-bashaw may have said in his letter of June the 29th, 1805, to palliate the conduct which first abandoned and then ruined him, the senate cannot fail to discern that he was then at Syracuse, in a country of strangers to his merits, and hostile to his nation and religion, and where every circumstance conspired to depress him, which together with the fear of starving, left him scarcely a moral agent.

Upon these facts and to carry into effect the principles of duty arising out of them, the only remuneration now left in the power of the United States to make, the commitee, herewith present a bill for the consideration of the senate. The committee are confident that the legislature of a free and christian country, can never leave it in the power of a mahometan to say that they violate their faith, or withhold the operations of justice from one who has fallen a victim to his unbounded confidence in their integrity and honor.

* Extract of a letter from capt. Dent.

"It was generally believed by the officers in the Mediterranean, that Mr. Lear had a great ascendancy over the commodore in all his measures relative to the squadron, & from frequent observations of Mr. Lear's intimacy with the commodore during his debilitated state, I am of the same opinion."

---

† "I must here pay a tribute of justice to commodore Rodgers, whose conduct during the negociation on board, was mixed with that manly firmness and evident wish to continue the war, if it could be done with propriety, while he displayed the magnanimity of an American, in declaring that we fought not for conquest, but to maintain our just rights and national dignity, as fully convinced the negociators that we did not ask but grant peace.

"You will pardon me if I here introduce a circumstance evincive of the spirit of our countrymen. At breakfast this morning, commodore Rodgers observed that if the bashaw would consent to deliver up our countrymen without making peace, he would engage to give him two hundred thousand instead of sixty thousand dollars, and raise the difference between the two sums from the officers of the navy, who he was perfectly assured would contribute to it with the highest satisfaction."

‡ Extract of a letter from com. Rodgers.

"I never thought the prisoners were in danger."

---

‡ Extract of a letter from lieutenant Wormley, then a prisoner in Tripoli.

"I do not believe that there was any danger to be apprehended for our lives, even if general Eaton and Hamet bashaw had have marched under the walls of Tripoli."

CONTINUATION OF Late Foreign Intelligence,

Received by the ship John Morgan, arrived at New York.

LONDON, February 8.

There is said to be no truth in the report of the whole of the Brest fleet being put to sea. The following bulletin was sent to Lloyd's yesterday evening:

BULLETIN

"Admiralty Office, Feb. 7.

"Letters from Falmouth of the 4th inst. mention a report received from the Colpovs schooner, which was cruizing for admiral Cornwallis, that a French squadron had sailed from Brest, and it may be presumed to be that seen by the Canada."

Our Plymouth letter corroborates the account in the Bulletin, and says that letters have been received from the Aigle, off the Black Rocks, stating that on the 30th ult. she looked into Brest, and counted there only 6 sail of the line and 1 frigate. On the 3d ult. when she looked in, she counted 11 sail of the line 4 frigates and 3 corvettes; of course, between the 3d ult. and 30th, 5 sail of the line, 3 frigates, and 3 corvettes must have put to sea.

Letters from Holland, of the 4th, were yesterday received in the city. One of these mentions a report, that Bonaparte had demanded of the king of Prussia to shut his ports against the commerce of England; upon which subject a very serious correspondence had taken place between the Courts France and of Berlin, the result of which is not stated.

We understand that it is intended Mr. Pitt's funeral shall take place on Saturday the 22d inst. & that the body shall lie, in State on the preceeding Thursday and Friday.

February 10.

The Hamburgh mail, due yesterday, has not arrived, but government have received dispatches from Lord Catheart, commanding the British troops in Hanover.

We understand these dispatches announce that the King of Prussia has taken possession of Hanover in his own name, and imposed the oath of allegiance on the different authorities established there. It is said too he refuses to allow the German Legion to return to England, claiming them as his subjects. Another account says, that it is only the recruits that are not permitted to embark for England.

A demand was made on Lord Carhcart to the above effect, which brought on a warm discussion between his lordship and the new government. If we are rightly informed his lordship in the mean time embarked the whole or the greater part of the German recruits, on board the Monarch, in the Elbe.

The Guards and the British regiments had likewise fall back upon Bremerlho; and it was expected that the whole of this force, together with its artillery, would be afloat and under the protection of the British Navy as soon as yesterday the 9th inst.

The annexation of the Electorate of Hanover to the Prusian dominions was announced by a proclamation dated the 5th inst. from Count Schulenburton, who had previously been appointed Governor of Hanover.

In consequence of the extraordinary and unprecedented step taken by Count Schulenburton on the part of the king of Prussia, for the administration of the Civil Government of the Electorate of Hanover, his Britanic majesty's arms have been taken down from the Tribunals and Public offices throughout Hanover; and the several public functionaries are prohibited, under the severest penalties, from maintaining any correspondence whatever with the king of Great Britain, or with his English or German Ministers.

The whole of this proceeding has been as hostile and rough in its detail, as its principle has been unwarrantable, unjust, and disgraceful on the part of Prussia towards this country, but whether it may ultimately prove an injury or a real benefit to this country, time alone can shew. This is a question on which politicians are much divided.

Letters received in the city from the continent state, that an arrangement has been made between the courts of Berlin and St. Cloud, to shut out British commerce from the Prussian ports. We know not what degree of credit is due to this statement; but it seems not improbable.

Various reports were in circulation yesterday respecting the British fleet being at sea. It was said that the Brest squadron was left engaged with one of the enemy's; but this is without foundation. It seems, certain however, that the enemy have got from Brest in different detachments. As we have several detached squadrons now at sea, these detachments of the enemy are likely to be intercepted. Indeed we do not see what object the enemy can have in view in this mode of proceeding.

It appears that government must have strong reasons to think that the Cape of G. Hope has been taken by the expedition under Sir D. Baird. Three transports with provisions have sailed from Portsmouth for the Cape. It was reported some time ago that the expedition would first make an attempt on some part of Spanish America, but it seems to have been unfounded.

Our troops are arrived from the continent. Forty sail of transports with troops arrived on Saturday, in Yarmouth road; they were to have proceeded to the Downs direct, but the wind prevented them. It is supposed they will be landed at Yarmouth.

We understand Mr. Fox has already sent dispatches to all our ministers at foreign Courts, announcing the change in our Ministry, adding that his wish is to restore peace to all Europe. If report be true, it is Mr. Fox's intention to make peace with France, leaving the Boulogne flotilla, as it now is; and he proposes to guard against the dangers of its existence by compelling every man in this country capable of bearing arms, to learn the use of them. The whole of our male population of this description is to be enrolled, called out occasionally in divisions, and ready on any sudden emergency to take the field

NASSAU, (N. P.) Feb. 28.

The brig Eagle, Briggs, belonging to Slater and Roy, of Baltimore, sailed from Charleston on the 11th instant, for the Matanzas, and on the night of the 19th, was cast away about eight miles east of Stranger's Key, Abico.—Cargo, dry goods, wines, oil, &c. She filged an hour after she struck, lowered out her boats, in which the captain, supercargo, (Mr. Cook) and all the crew went, and with much difficulty made the land, without provisions or water.—On the 20th, they returned to the wreck, where they found two wreckers, the Resolution, Clark and Lively, Sweeting—they saved part of the dry goods, some wine, butter and lard, two anchors, two cables, and some sails.

The supercargo of the Eagle arrived here yesterday, with part of what has been saved from the wreck—the captain and crew are hourly expected in the Resolution.

Arrived on Wednesday, the brig Dispatch, Captain Sherman, 20 days from Newport, (R. I.) Lat. 28, long. 61, was brought to by two English armed merchantmen, a ship and a brig, one of 6 guns and the other of four; they were eleven days from Antigua bound to Bristol, with very valuable cargoes. The captain of the ship came on board the Dispatch and purchased a quantity of poultry, &c. for which he paid liberally. He informed, that the brig was in such a leaky state, that he expected the people would be obliged to abandon her. Captain Sherman does not recollect the names of the English vessels

March 5.

The schooner Edward, Capt. Venn, belonging to Amorose Clark, of Baltimore, from Jeremie, St. Domingo, for Baltimore, with a cargo of 706 bags of coffee, was cast away on Florida Reef, the 23d ult. between 1 and 2 o'clock, A. M. The principal part of the cargo, and most of the materials saved. The master, with part of the cargo, arrived here on Tuesday in the wrecking schooner Charlotte, Bethell.

The sloop Richard Alfred, Terbill, sails this day for Exuma and New York; the Huntress, Allyn, for Charleston, and Brother's Return, Scott, for Georgetown, are wind bound.

The schooner Enterprize, Johnson, is hourly expected here from Ragged Island, from whence she will proceed to New-York.

BY THIS DAY'S MAIL.

BALTIMORE, March 24.

VERY LATE.

By the arrival of the Abeona, captain Hobson, from Liverpool, London and Liverpool papers have been received at the office of the Federal Gazette—the former to the 10th, the latter to the 12th February, inclusive.

The treaties and documents between G. Britain, Austria, Russia, Sweeden, &c. laid before parliament, form a lengthy & interesting item in the political department; but their great prolixity requires more room and time than we shall have for a day or two.

Turkey is convulsed to the very centre, very probably by the agency of Talleyrand, and offers an easy prey to any invader.—— Its capital it was reported was once more to be made the seat of the Roman pontifical chair.

Mene Tekel has been inscribed on the palace of the king of Naples, and his dominions are to be thrown into the Neapolitan crucible.

Prussia has seized upon Hanover, and prohibted the several public functionaries, under the severest penalties, from carrying on any correspondence with the king of Great Britain, or with his English or German ministers. It is said that this faithful ally has also acceded to the requisition of Bonaparte for passing a non-intercourse law with Great Britain.

While Bonaparte sends out his navies with the view of being captured, he seems bent on subjugating the "tyrant of the sea," without any other vehicle than his gun-boats. Preparations for the invasion are consequently renewed with vigor at Bologne, and large bodies of troops are collecting both there and at Brest.

In the mean time the new administration of the united kingdoms have gone into office with every prospect of a hearty co operation on the part of the nation, in every measure and sacrifice which may be necessary to support them through their present critical situation. Mr. Fox is said to be for peace, but whether the views of the minister are pacific or warlike, we have yet no indication, but a more favorable countenance to our commercial pursuits are calculated from the recent change.

The following appointments are announced in the London Gazettee:

Lord Sidmouth, keeper of the privy seal, had the oath administered to him, and took his place at the board.

Earl Moira, earl Temple, lord Henry Petty, chancellor and under treasurer of his majesty's exchequer; right hon. Charles Grey, and the right hon. Charles J. Fox, were sworn of his majesty's most hon. privy council, and took their places at the board.

Earl Spencer, and the right hon. Mr. Windham, to be two of his majesty's principal secretaries of state.

Lord Auckland (and in his absence earl Temple) president of the committee of council, appointed for the consideration of matters relating to trade and foreign plantations.

Viscount Morpeth, right hon. Richard Brindsley Sheridan, were sworn of the privy council.

Earl Moira, master-general of the ordnance.

Gen. Fitzpatrick, secretary of war.

Sir Henry Russel, chief justice of Bengal.

New diplomatic missions, &c.—T. Grenville, to Prussia—Adair, Russia—T. Erskine, jun. America.

The London Courier says:

The Fox party in the cabinet is more numerous than the Grenville, and should a difference of opinion occur, as it is scarcely possible that it should not occur, the small Addington party can incline the scale which way they please. The following division will prove the truth of the assertion:

The Grenville party.

Lord Grenville, earl Spencer, Mr. Wyndham, earl Fitzwilliam.

The Fox party.

Mr. Fox, Mr. Grey, lord Henry Petty, Mr. Erskine, the earl of Moira.

The Addington party.

Lord Sidmouth, and lord Ellenborough.

CHARLESTON, March 15.

NAVAL VICTORY.

We are indebted to the politeness of his Britannic Majesty's Consul, BENJAMIN MOODIE, Esq. for the following letter from admiral Cochrane, containing an account of the action between the British and French fleets, off the city of St. Domingo, on the 6th February last.

The letter was put on board the brig Jane, captain Hunt, arrived yesterday morning from Cork, who fell in with the Northumberland, on the 17th ultimo, in lat. 24, 54, long. 63. Admiral Cochrane intended to make for Halifax to repair, having his main mast shot away about ten feet above the deck, and his mizen mast considerably injured.

An officer of the Northumberland informed captain Hunt, that this ship sustained the greatest injury in the action, having laid along side the French admiral of 130 guns. The Northumberland is a 74.

Northumberland, off St. Domingo, 10 February, 1806.

SIR,

I have much satisfaction in communicating to you, that the enemy's squadron, lately arrived from France, named in the margin,* which Vice Admiral Sir John Duckworth went in pursuit of, from St. Christopher's, on the 1st, have been taken or destroyed,

* Imperial	130 guns	burnt.
Alexander	84	captured.
Brave	84	captured.
Diomede	74	destroyed.
Jupiter	74	captured.
Fraternite	40	escaped.
Comet	40	escaped.
A Corvette	20	escaped.

They were discovered at anchor off the town of St. Domingo, on the morning of the 6th. As the British squadron advanced, they got under weigh, and attempted to escape by running down along the shore, to the S. S. W. but were frustrated by the prompt measures adopted by the vice admiral.

A little after 10 in the forenoon, they were headed by the advanced part of the British squadron, and brought to close action. The Superb, carrying sir John Duckworth's flag, leading, followed by the Northumberland, Spencer and Agamemnon. The lee line consisting of the Canopus, bearing the flag of rear admiral Louis, the Donnegal and Atlas coming up to leeward.

The action began by the Superb firing on the Alexander, the leading ship of the enemy's line; the Northumberland, taking up the Imperial, the second ship, when the action soon after became general.

The Alexander being disabled, dropt a stern, and about 11 o'clock, struck her colours, having lost all her masts. The rear ships of the enemy closed to support their admiral in the Imperial, and about a quarter past eleven one of them, the Jupiter, struck to the Donegal. The Brave also submitted soon after.

The Imperial used every means to escape, but finding that impossible, she ran on shore near Point Palangue, about 10 leagues S. W. of St. Domingo, and was followed by the Diomede, where they stranded, and were afterwards set on fire by the frigates of the squadron. The enemy all landed from the Imperial, but the captain of the Diomede was brought off with above 100 of her crew, the rest had got on shore.

The loss of the enemy has been very severe. By a flag of truce which came off to request permission to send supplies to their wounded, I was informed that the Imperial had about 700 killed and wounded. The Diomede a great many; the three ships captured have also suffered severely, making the total loss of their squadron to be 1,800 or 2 000 men.

I am happy to say that the loss of the British squadron has been, comparatively, small, not bearing any proportion with that of the enemy; the total killed and wounded not exceeding 200 or 220, of which this ship had one hundred.

I enclose a copy of the thanks sent to the ships of the squadron, by sir John Duckworth, previous to his departure for Jamaica, where he went to refit: the prizes having preceded him the day before.

The frigates and corvettes effected their escape during the action, but I hope they will yet be met with by a squadron I have sent in pursuit."

I have the honor to be, sir,
Your most obedient servant,
ALEX. COCHRANE.

Superb, off St. Domingo, 7th February 1806.

As it is impossible for language to convey an adequate sense of my feelings to the honorable rear admiral Cochrane, for the noble support renderdered me by the Northumberland, or to rear admiral Louis and the captains of the squadron under my command, for the bravery and judgement displayed in the service of their king and country, by effecting a complete victory in as short a period as our naval annals can produce; I, therefore can only, with a heart impressed by the highest sense of admiration and approbation, beg to offer to the honorable rear admiral Cochrane, rear admiral Louis, the captains, officers, and seamen, and to the officers, non commissioned officers and privates of the royal marines my warmest thanks: And I desire, that the captains will convey those my sentiments of approbation and admiration, with thanks in the most gratifying manner, to the officers and seamen, and royal marines, as a proof of my high sense of their services in the battle of yesterday.

(Signed) J. F. DUCKWORTH.

To the honorable rear admiral Cochrane, rear admiral Louis, the captains, officers, seamen and royal marines of the squadron.

Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

THURSDAY, MARCH 27.

The ships William and John, Woodhouse, and Hero, Cole, were to sail from Liverpool for this port the first of March.

The ship Alexandria, Captain Brandt, arrived in the Texel Roads the 4th of January, in 34 days from Cape Henry.

We understand that the latest dispatches received from Mr. Monroe, bear date the 28th of January, and that they state, that in consequence of the indisposition of Mr. Pitt, no ultimate arrangements had been made for the adjustment of our relations with Great Britain, but that hopes of such adjustment were entertained from the complexion of the new administration.

[National Intelligencer.]

From the speeches at the opening of the imperial parliament, it will be seen that the English government look with a friendly eye towards Russia, and that in fact they consider that power their best, if not their only ally. These speeches, though they breathe a spirit of vigilance and independence, are not marked with a hostile or rancorous character. Under another ministry, and under the operation of other measures, Britain may perhaps consider it her policy to "study the things that make for peace."

[N. Y. D. Adv.]

Expectation of another naval engagement.

When Capt. Bunker left Liverpool, government was in hourly expectation of a decisive engagement having taken place between the English fleet under Sir Richard Strachan, and a French fleet of nine sail of the line and several frigates, in lat. 47, long. 4.

The captain of an American vessel lately arrived there, reported that he had been brought to by the English fleet off Cape Acar, then within four hours sail of the enemy.

[Ibid.]

A gentleman, passenger in the JOHN MORGAN politely handed us the following letter dated Liverpool 13th Feb. 1806.

Sir,

We have not handed our Price Current this month as usual, in consequence of being unable to quote prices with any degree of certainty. Since our last of the 10th ult. a change has taken place in our ministry, and as this change has brought the opposition members into power, it may have some effect on our commercial relations. We cannot at present even give our opinion on the subject; we shall only say that our present Cabinet Ministers are more inclined for peace than those whom they have succeeded. We have had a considerable stir in our cotton market and a large quantity of all descriptions have gone at the following quotations: Upland at 14d middling 15d. good 15 3-4.; very fine new cottons, Orleans 16d a 17d.; Tennessees 15 a 16 1 2.; Sea Islands, good 2s; fine 2s. 3d. W. India common 17 3.4d.; Demarara 21d. Pernam at 2s a 2s 1 1.2d.

We have had an arrival of about 8000 bags from Lisbon. The arrivals from all other places may be about 14,000 bags, and our sales have not been less (of all descriptions, than 15,000 bags for the last month. The imports of cotton that have recently arrived from America are chiefly on English account, and have come into needy hands, who have been the principal sellers. The buyers are chiefly speculators, presuming the price is at the lowest point, as our arrivals for the last ten days have not been to the extent as was anticipated. Prices have improved a little, Uplands sell at 1-2 to 3 4 per lb. more than at the beginning of the month. If the next months imports should prove less the prices are still likely to improve, but not very materially, at least till the bulk has arrived. Turpentine dull at former quotations. Tar 22s duty. Rice 26. in bond, dull. Tobacco steady at former quotations.

In Senate of the United States.

The following resolutions were submitted for their consideration on Tuesday last, and read:

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That congress entertain an high sense of the patriotism, intrepidity, and valor of William Eaton, late general in chief of the army of the ex-bashaw of Tripoli, and of Priestly N. O'Bannon, and George Washington Mann, three American officers, who with a small number of American marines, and the forces of the ex-bashaw, composed of Greeks and Arabs, courageously marched through the Lybian desart, defeated the Tripolitan army near Derne, and took that city on the 27th day of April, 1805, and for the first time, spread the American Eagle in Africa, on the ramparts of a Tripolitan fort, and thereby contributed to release three hundred American prisoners from bondage in Tripoli.

Resolved, As a further testimony of the gratitude of their country, the president of the United States be requested to cause to be surveyed within the limits of the public lands of the United States now open for sale, as the said William Eaton shall elect, a township of six miles square to be called DERNE, as a memorial of the conquest of that city, forever, and to cause to be laid out, surveyed, and granted, to the said William Eaton, in one entire tract within the said township thousand acres, and to Priestly N. O'Bannon, and George Washington Mann, each thousand acres, and to Arthur Campbell, Bernard O'Brian, David Thomas, and Jas. Owen, the only surviving marines who served as volunteers in that expedition, three hundred and twenty acres each; to be granted to them respectively, their heirs and assigns forever.

SECOND DIVIDEND,

In the case of JAMES SMITH, late a Bankrupt.

THE Commissioners, in a Commission of Bankruptcy, awarded and issued forth against James Smith, formerly of Dumfries, in the county of Prince William, and State of Virginia, Merchant; intend to meet at their office, the house of BENJAMIN PARK in the town of Fredericksburg, on Monday, the 14th day of April next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to make a further dividend of the estate and effects of the said Bankrupt; when and where the creditors who have not already proved their debts, are to appear prepared to prove the same, or they will be excluded the benefit of the said dividend; and all claims not then substantiated will be disallowed.

Timothy Brundige, Assignee.

Dumfries, 18th March. [20] o14thA

A great Bargain may be had.

I wish to exchange seven or eight hundred acres of LAND, in Fairfax county, formerly Loudoun county, for good lands in the western country. It lies near Sugar Land Run, it is finely timbered and watered, good farming land, about 18 miles from the City of Washington, 20 from Alexandria, and 2 from the Potomac river.—There are two tenements and an excellent orchard on the premises, about 70 bushels of wheat sowed last fall and a good deal of clover, which grows finely, the soil being well adapted to the Plaister of Paris, from the fullest experiments—the title indisputable. Any person making early application may get an advantageous exchange. Application, by letter, to the subscriber in Alexandria, will be duly attended to.

Twenty Dollars Reward,

WILL be given for apprehending and securing in jail, a young mulatto man slave, named ANDREW. He was hired by me last year to Mr. Joseph Thomas, who keeps the middle ferry opposite to Alexandria, and absconded from that place about the latter end of August last. He is about 25 years of age, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, lusty and well made, has short curled hair, and is frequently subject to have several large pimples in his face. He is reckoned to be a sensible fellow, of an easy agreeable address for a man in his low sphere of life. As he has not been heard of by me since his elopement, I suspect he has had the address to ship himself as a freeman on board some vessel either at Alexandria or Baltimore. Whoever takes him up and secures him in any jail, shall receive from me the above reward, as soon as due information thereof is given to me or to Doctor N. P. Causin, at Port Tobacco.

VALUABLE FAMILY MEDICINES.

Just received direct from the Patentees, and FOR SALE BY

JAMES KENNEDY, JUN.
DRUGGIST;

The following Valuable Medicines:

Dr. Rawson's Anti-Bilious and Stomachel Bitters.

PREPARED BY

THOMAS H. RAWSON,

Member of the Connecticut Medical Society.

THESE Bitters have undoubtedly had the most rapid sale of any Patent Medicine ever before discovered, and are justly appreciated for their singular and uncommon virtues for restoring weak and decayed constitutions, and all that train of complicated complaints so common in the spring and fall seasons, such as intermittant Fevers and Agues, long Autumnal Fevers, Dysenteries, &c. They are also a very pleasant bitter for common use, and where they are known they have taken the place and superceded the use of all other bitters in public houses as well as in private families.—Price 50 cents a box.

Dr. Lee's (Windham Billious Pills,

THE great sale and increasing demand for these valuable pills for these twelve years past, bespeak their intrinsic worth. They have proved singularly efficacious in Billious and Yellow fevers, Jaundice, Head Aachs, Dysenteries, Billious Cholic, Costiveness, Female complaints, &c.

The very great demand and high esteem in which these pills are held throughout the United States and the West Indies, has induced many to counterfeit them; the purchaser is requested to observe that the name of Samuel Lee, jun. (the patentee) is affixed to each bill of directions, in his own hand writing, or they will not be genuine Price 50 cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Itch Ointment.

A certain and safe application for that disagreeable complaint called the ITCH. Price 42 cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Anti Billious Pills, or, Family Physic.

The extraordinary celebrity these pills have gained, the universal demand for them and esteem of which they are held by medical men of the first eminence, are sufficient testimonials of their intrinsic worth. In great colds and sudden attacks of disorders, an early use of these pills often produces the happiest effects, and taken once in eight or ten days in cases of indigestion, headachs, dizziness, pains in the stomach and bowels, dysentries, diarehœas, dropsies, &c. and a liberal use of my anti billious bitters in the intermediate time has relieved patients almost to a miracle—price 25 cents a box.

Thompson's Aromatic Tooth Paste,

For the scurvy in the teeth and gums, and for whitening and preserving the teeth. It likewise takes off all disagreeable smells from the breath, which generally arises from scorbutic gums and bad teeth. This paste is much in use, and highly esteemed by all those who value the preservation of their teeth, it may be applied at all times with the greatest safety. It is neatly put up in pewter boxes with paper directions. Price 50 cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Worm Powders.

A medicine which for efficacy and safety in its operation stands unrivalled. The most authenticated proofs and respectable authorities of its astonishing virtues, and surprising effects, in extreme and alarming cases of worms, may be seen at the place of sale. Price 50 cents a packet.

Dr. Cooley's Vegetable Elixir; Or Cough Drops,

For Coughs, Colds, Asthmas, spitting of blood, and all diseases of the lungs. Its merits stands unrivalled. Price 50 cents a bottle.

Dr. Cooley's Rheumatic Pills.

Price 50 cents a box.

Hinkley's Infallible remedy for the Piles.

Price 50 Cents a Box.
